CE in India

The Tulsipur CE took a small step on the 8th of March, 2024, for the welfare of the society and to empower the underprivileged around them. Through a program called 'Mary in a Martha's World,' aimed at providing free education to children in slum areas who lack access to schools. The program also empowers these women to learn stitching and jewelry making, thus help them earn a livelihood.

CE Lebanon

CE Lebanon's youth gathered last month for a one day CE Prayer event in KCHAG. They enjoyed worshipping God with the band, after which they went out and spent time with God in nature through a guided meditation around the passage from Matthew 15:29-32. After a break, the youth experienced "liquid prayers", moving around to visit any of the 6 prayer stations and following the instructions written there. These included were topical prayers, prayers in a jar, prayers with pictures, prayers for CE nations around the globe, written prayers, and prayers around candles.

CE Ireland

Members of Magheramorne CE Society enjoyed CE Sunday with the theme on "Trust". They had a special guest, Nuala, the therapy dog, who is a local school favourite. The idea was to demonstrate how parents trust teachers to teach their children as the teachers trust Nuala to protect the children.

CE USA

Earlier this year Josh Good was part of an awesome day of training, refreshment and encouragement for youth workers in southern Pennsylvania. He led a practical training focused on how youth ministries can prioritize discipling students "less like hippos, more like honeybees"

Youth Ministry Insight

"Connect Planning with Purpose"

We believe youth ministry should result in youth maturing into the likeness of Christ in four relational dimensions – up with God, in with His family (the church), with other believers, and out in mission to the world. Ephesians 4:11-13 highlights this multi-dimensional discipleship purpose as:

- Up – become mature
- In – body of Christ may be built up
- With – until we all reach unity
- Out – for works of service

In the CE Advocate's Guidebook, we're challenged to connect planning with purpose. In every aspect of youth ministry planning, it's essential to connect with the "why" of the thing that is being planned. Use the following four questions as a starting point to connect planning with purpose.

"How may this effort better help youth..."

- ...confess Christ as Lord and Savior and grow UP in their faith?
- ...connect IN healthy life-giving relationships with Christ's Church?
- ...collaborate WITH other Christians to advance the glory of God?
- ...contribute to the redemptive work of God by living their faith OUT in their world?"
